Clarksville Downtown Market

October 1, 2011

The Downtown Market has gone to the DOGS! (again)

Fall is in the air!

As we move into October we feel the chill in the air and realize that the days are getting shorter and these are all signs of fall approaching Tennessee. This also means that there are only 4 more Downtown Market dates left in this season. Pumpkins and apples are coming in as well as other various kinds of produce and we still have plenty of fried pies and other goodies to snack on while shopping. Also, Christmas is around the corner and the different arts and crafts that can be found on display at the market every week would make wonderful gifts for your loved ones. Remember, without you, the patron, we will not have the wonderful market that we do and we want to say thanks!

This Saturday at the market will be our "first" dog days at the market since the first one in June was rained out. Patrons are welcome and encouraged to bring their four-legged family members to the market on a leash for a stroll and enjoy the day. While you are there you and your pet may want to stop by the Clarksville Montgomery Humane Society booth to enjoy see what they have to offer during the day. Then be sure to check out the Montgomery County Friends of the Shelter booth for pet treats and information on how to adopt your next forever friend and help give a great home to dog or cat in need.

Also at the market starting at 10am, the Mayor's Fitness Council will feature a pet walk, led by Clarksville Mayor Kim McMillan, who will be accompanied by her own Maltese, Stevie Ray. She will discuss the health benefits of having pets and lead the public and their four-legged friends on a walk through Downtown beginning at the lower parking lot of the market.

Local residents, visitors, and their pets are invited to join Mayor McMillan and members of the Mayor's Fitness Council for this pet-friendly event. Pet Walk with the Mayor is the latest in the monthly series of fitness-related promotions in which the Mayor participates in various activities to help people begin or enhance their healthy lifestyles.

The Clarksville Downtown Market has been voted the Number 1 Market in Tennessee for the Second Straight Year!!! We also placed 15th nationally among markets of similar size. Thank you to all the patrons of the market who voted for and made this title possible for us this year.
