

CLARKSVILLE
TENNESSEE

Clarksville Downtown Market

September 16 & 17, 2011

Night at the Market

Friday September 16, 2011 will be our third "Night Market" of this season! It will start at 5pm and go until 8pm during Jammin' in the Alley.

The market will feature a showcase of several different vendors from our regular Saturday morning venue who will be selling some of the items that they have every weekend. There will be produce, fried pies, candles, soaps, jewelry, wood crafting, and other arts and crafts available. "August Christopher" will be playing Friday night on Strawberry Alley starting at 7pm so this should be a fun filled night for all.

Check out the Clarksville Downtown Market, and don't forget we have a Facebook page. Become our newest friend!

Clarksvilledowntownmarket.com

facebook

Clarksville's 6th Annual Frolic on Franklin

Downtown Clarksville's 6th annual celebration of the arts, "Frolic on Franklin" will take place Saturday, September 17 and is free to the public from 9am – 4pm. Hosted by the Downtown Clarksville Association, the event will showcase the works of 30 local and regional artists along the 100 block of historic Franklin Street.

A variety of original artwork and crafts will be on display including jewelry, pottery, watercolors, woodwork, ceramics, glass items, photography and more. Items will be for sale with prices ranging from $2 to $2,000. Several artists will also provide demonstrations of their work throughout the day including painting and decorating glass ornaments, making wooden items with lathes, and various types of painting.

"We're thrilled to offer a full slate of artists this year, and to have broadened our reach," said Frolic Coordinator Michelle Dickerson. "We have some artists that have participated every year, but more than half are new to the festival this year, which is very exciting."

In addition to artist booths, staged entertainment is scheduled throughout the day, including a first-ever Roxy Idol Contest. Singers, dancers, comics whether group or individual—can register by sending an e-mail to roxydevelopment@bellsouth.net. The winner will receive a special prize and have a cameo appearance that evening in "Beehive: The 60's Musical Sensation." Registration deadline for the Roxy Idol Contest is September 15. The evening will culminate with a ticketed Roxy Gala auction, dinner and show. For more information about Frolic on Franklin or Roxy Gala tickets, please contact the Roxy Regional Theatre at 931-645-7699.

Schedule of Events for Frolic on Franklin

9:30a.m. – Cumberland Winds' Jazz Project

10:45a.m. – Northeast High School Exit One

Noon – Austin Peay State University Opera Workshop

1:15 p.m. – Yesterday!

2:15p.m. – Lydia Walker

3:00p.m. – First Roxy Idol Contest

The Clarksville Downtown Market has been voted the Number 1 Market in Tennessee for the Second Straight Year!! We also placed 15th nationally! Thank you to all those who voted and made this title possible for us this year.